Forever
Enriqueta

Dear Eleanor,
Lot of luck
and happiness in the future.
Melvin R. Franz

Put rid of the way you walk, talk eat, sleep, snore, and everything else. I think you swell.
(For sarcasms sake.)
Jake Albert
Radtke

Dear Eleanor;
Best of luck
to a very smart
Latin student. You
sat next to me
in Latin.
Dorothy Takely
(Blondie)

Eleanor Skladanek

Dear Eleanor:
you a swell
gal loads of luck.
Audrey O'Neil

Hello Eleanor:

Boy are you studious. I'll bet you can write
40 words a minute
now. I like the way you speak, when you get up on the stage. Your wonderful Pal.

So long.

Ralphy Lorenz.

Best wishes to the one girl who really could think while standing on her feet. More power to you, Eleanor.
Virginia Kubacki

Dear Ellie.
Best of luck to a swell girl. I know you will reach the top.
Remember the red-head
Betty Jane Correu

Dear Ellie
Your sincerity has amazingly amazed all. Me especially cause you're not afraid to express your opinions. Success to you Ellie because you are so eager to learn and your will succeed! Remember Allabaugh and use wisely
your up top.
Luck Ellie
dear.
Genie
Binkowski
1142.

Dear Eleanor,

This is one of the years of my life that I shall never forget. and you are a good part of that year. If everyone had your high hopes, ambitions, and ideals the world would not be in such a spot as it is not. Our this division and the nation itself needs more people like you.

Martha Rankin

Dear Eleanor,

We have had a turbulant career in school politics, you and I, Eleanor! Yet we have really had a mess of fun haven't we? Zip, Eleanor, and Roy marched along the highway of student government till blocked by an immense obstuction known as Jimmy. We fell, but we carried on in the senior class. In fact we did ourselves proud there. Then came the fall in a lousy little debate in speech & we found how good we really were. The best of everything, Eleanor.

Ray Jones

Lots of luck to a very intellectual girl. Love Kenneth.

For a very intellectual girl in Eng. 7 or 8.
Loads of luck + happiness

I'll always remember you from Economics. Keep up the good debating — you're bound to win. —"
Liz - Lucy

Ally,
We started and ended our senior year together, but in different classes. It was swell being with you. Lots of love Connie

See, Ellie, you're about as sweet as they come!
Lots of luck.
Lois Nicholl.

words of luck and success
Sedonya Zuke.

Dear Eleanor
I think you're a swell
kid, that can't make them any better. From a Latin admirer.
Manuel Sanchez

Dear Eleanore,
Here I am near
Smokey again. — What more is there to say except that I think you're a very nice — smooth girl. — Luck + the success,

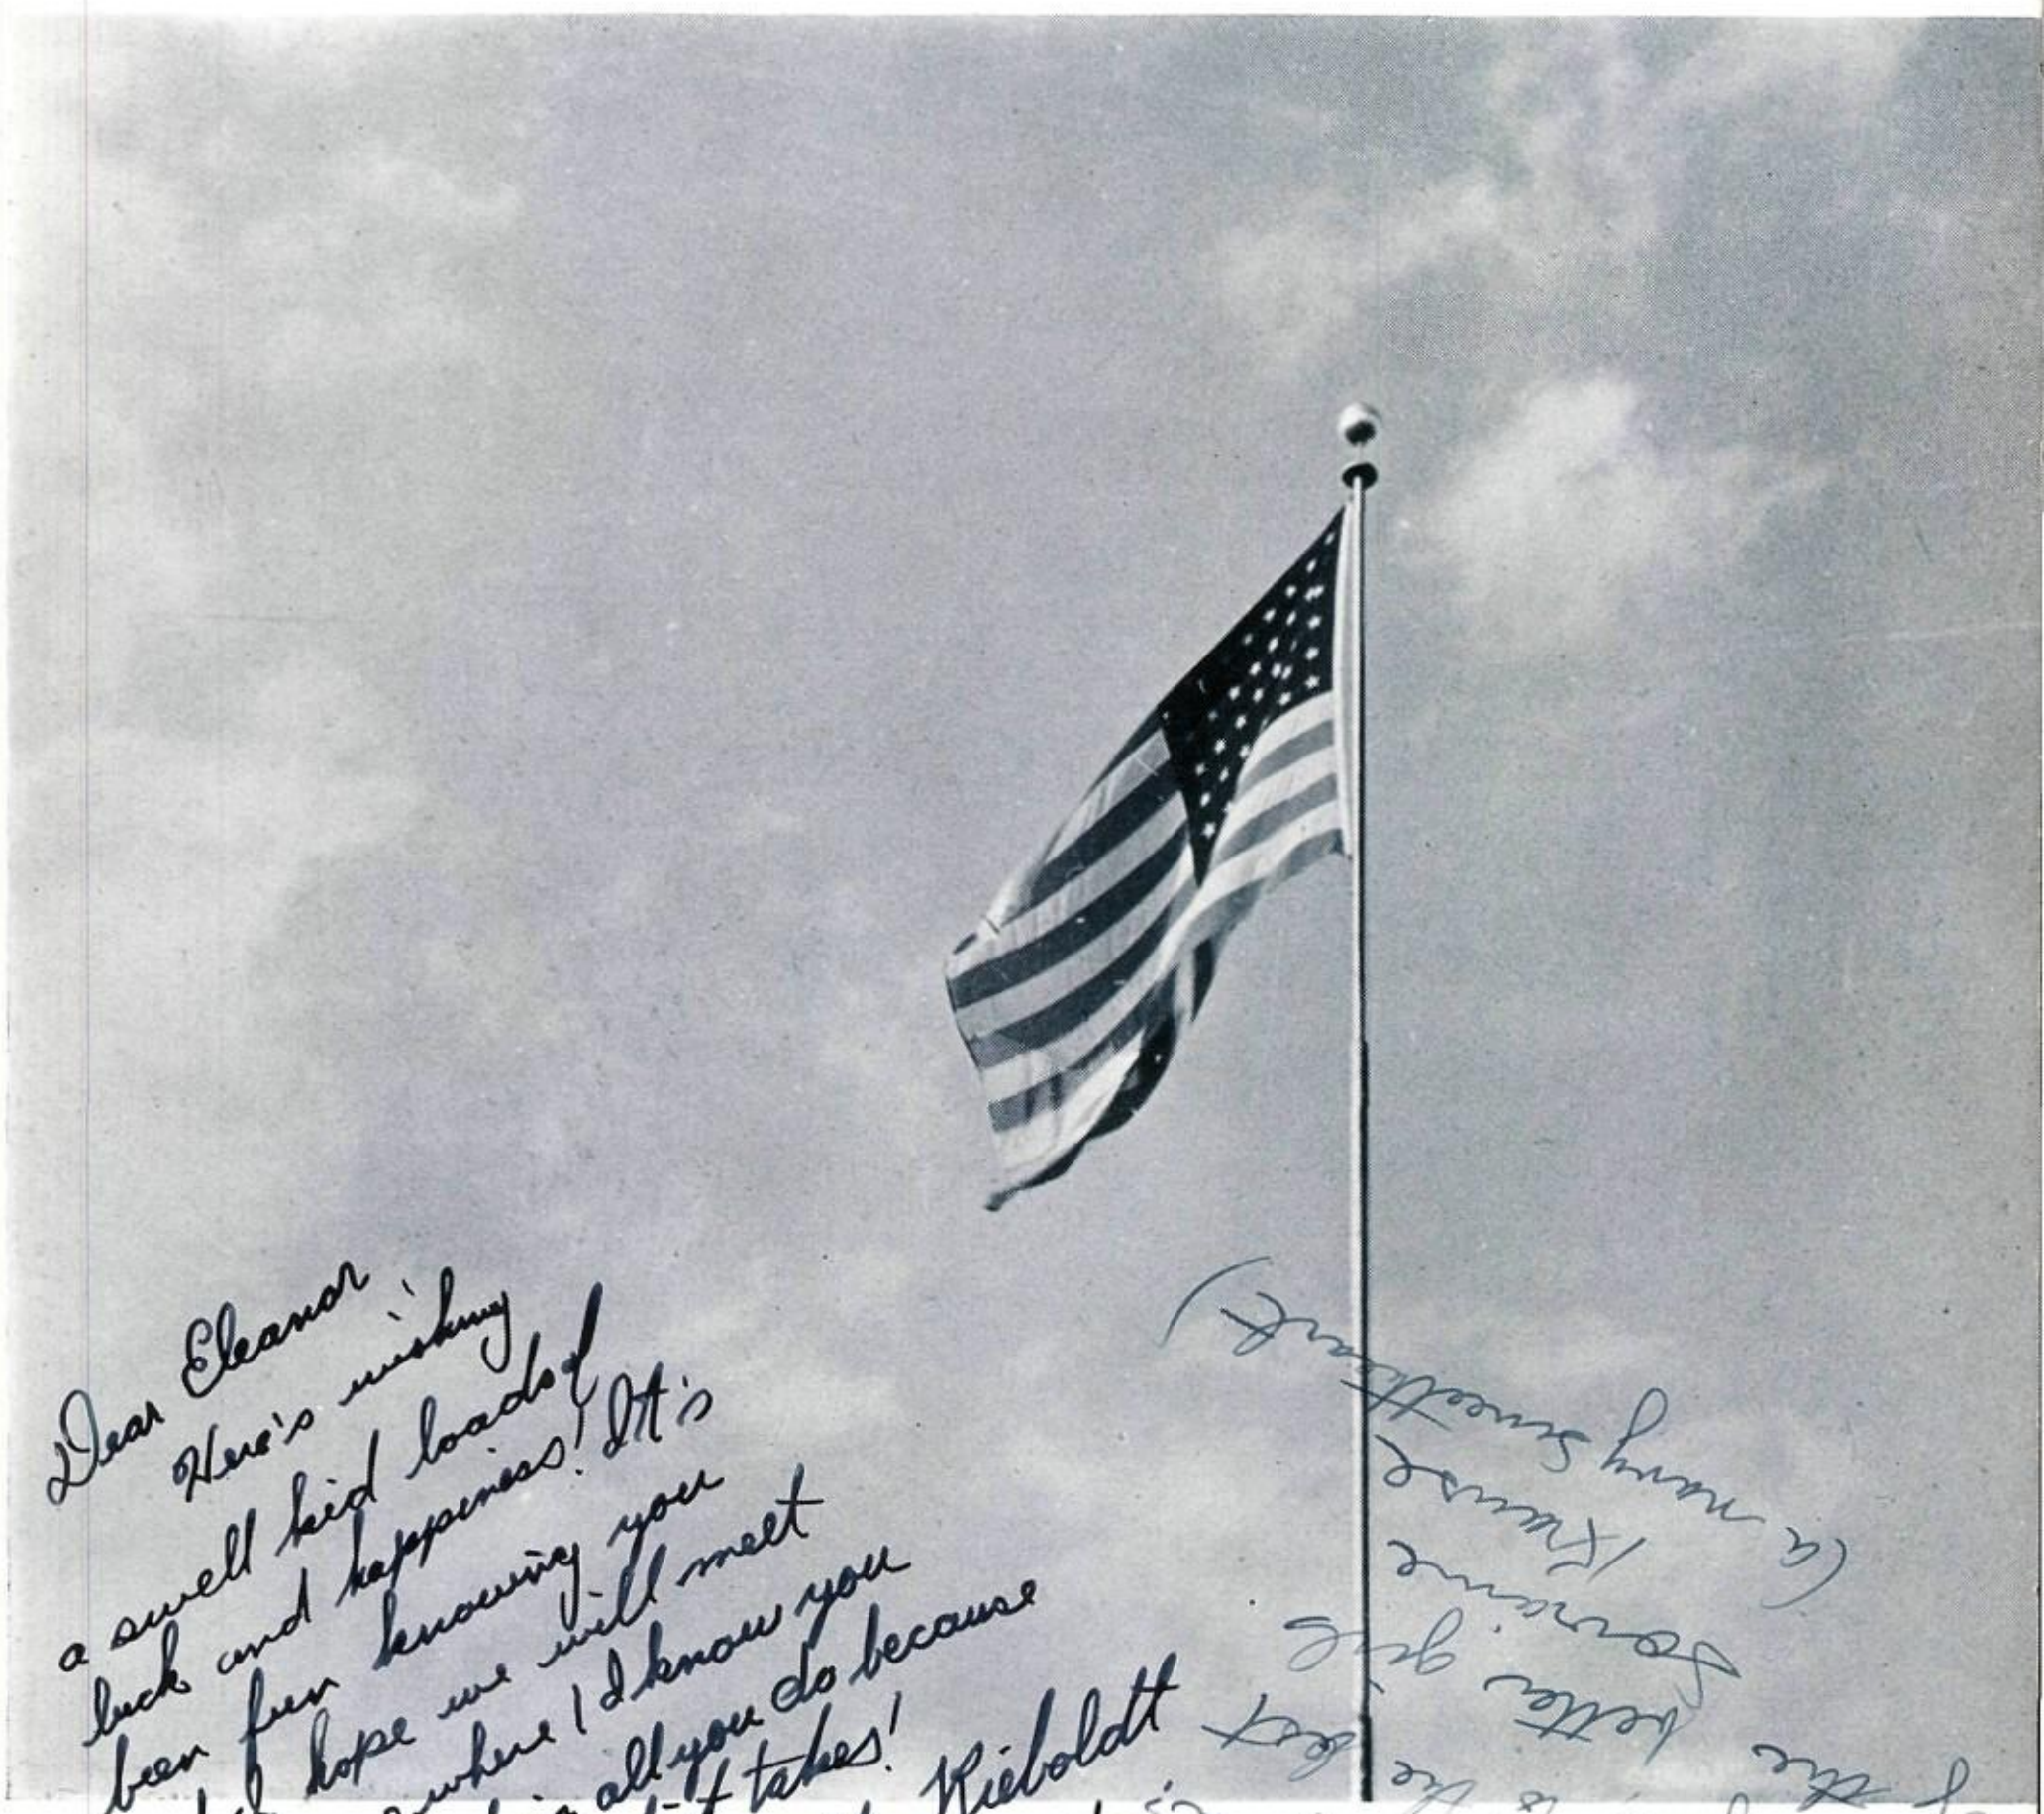
To a swell girl
Lots of luck.
Audrey O'Neil



Dear Eleanor
Here's wishing a swell kid loads of luck and happiness! It's been fun knowing you and I hope we will meet again somewhere! I know you will succeed in all you do because you've got what it takes!

SUMMER SCHOOL SENIORS

IN MEMORIAM

Jeanette Kloss had been appointed to the art editorship of the 1941 Cardinal Annual just prior to her death. Although she was not there to fill her post, the book is, in part, Jeanette's. Industrious, cheerful, eager to assist others, Jeanette found her chief delight in serving her school through the medium of her art work. Among her many really worth-while contributions to South Division are the design for the school flag, the music department honor roll, and a number of line drawings for The Cardinal weekly, as well as lay-outs for this book.

Many seniors feel a disturbing sense of loneliness as they walk through the corridors of South Division without their beloved friend, Dorothy Kowaleski, whose naturally sweet singing voice and equally pleasing disposition are well remembered. Participation in Girls' club, love for the poets, and active or spectator sports vied for her leisure time.

UNDISPUTED city gridiron kings for the first time in 22 years! Turning in their moleskins, helmets, and cleats to Sarge Coffeen, South's gridders must have had a feeling of satisfaction over so perfect an accomplishment as the city high school championship.

What qualities does a championship require? Topmost are cooperation and unity between coaches and players. Discord and petty differences cannot be tolerated; teamwork and gray matter are imperative. Finally, the unconquerable will to win must prevail.

Without these essentials the Kruegerites could not have triumphed in their two suburban and six conference encounters. After two weeks of preliminary fundamentals, Coach Krueger sent his charges westward to tame the frisky West Milwaukee Mustangs 13-7. The following week the Redbirds journeyed to West Allis where they decisively crushed the Bulldogs 20-6.

Upsetting Rufus King 19-13 in the final daylight conference match spurred the Redmen to greater glory. A high spot in South's '40 pigskin duels was the smashing 27-0 defeat the Cardinal handed neighbor Tech. With 6,000 spectators jamming the stadium tiers, the Redbird ball handlers put on an 11-man show that completely dazzled the Trojans. Rambling rough-shod, thoughts fixed on a first-place pennant, the Redmen overwhelmed North 26-7; following this victory came a 21-7 conquest against a scrappy Custer eleven.

CHAMPIONS OF 1940

The day of days arrived! A home-coming crowd of 8,000 turned out for the never-to-be-forgotten Lincoln-South conflict.

Hope was dark when the board read 10-0 at the last quarter. Then with six minutes of playing time remaining, a Strzykalski - Polczynski attempt clicked, and Ray scampered 30 yards for six points. In the last down with one minute left, Johnny snapped a pass to Ray who hugged it dearly in the end zone. The score—South 13, Lincoln 10. Talk about a Frank Merriwell finish! The crowd went wild!

Crushing Bay View, 40-12, was a comparatively simple task as the boys staged their final conference melee.

Strong turnouts at every game, stirring club rallies, inspiring art posters, excellent sports write-ups, rousing band music, and lusty cheerleaders all contributed to a winning season. South Division again tasted the fruits of victory!

Loads of Luck to a sweet Ma Aldrich. You ever Great. Bert Cook

SOUTH helped to record pigskin history when it participated against Tech in its first night encounter of city conference grid annals.

Floodlights had been installed at King and South stadiums, and the initial contest indicated the success of football under lights. The mazdas have made the game a more spectacular affair. Furthermore, the inauguration of arc lamps enabled busy alumni and friends to attend the games. Night football is here to stay!

HARD effort reaped its own reward. Letters, medals, trophies, banquets, and posts on all-city teams passed into the deserving hands of South's 1940 champions.

Four Cardinal gridders were awarded berths on the Milwaukee Journal's all-city team chosen by high school coaches. These players were Kassulke, tackle; Rozanski, end; Polczynski and Strzykalski, half-backs. All four athletes placed on the first team of every Milwaukee newspaper.

Co-captain Kassulke, mainstay of the Redmen's battering forward wall, broke up enemy offenses and made lengthy ground gains. Swiftest end in the conference, Rozanski could always be relied upon to snare a point-determining pass or to bring down the enemy ball carrier. Unanimous all-city choice Polczynski scored 14 touchdowns, led the season's scoring with 84 points, and was termed ace pass receiver of the conference. Co-captain Strzykalski's spectacular defensive work, sparking of the squad's spirit, tremendous punts, deadly passing to Polczynski, and hard running will long be remembered. Johnny won the Milwaukee Post football trophy for the most valuable player in the 1940 conference.

Coming in for their well-earned share of honors were other Redbird starters. Redovick's crafty terminal play and the smashing line plays of Chet George and Clem Fontaine gained them second team spots on the Post's eleven. Honorable mention was accorded Greevers, Wasielewski, Cook, and Jankowski. Substituting frequently gave Ziolkowski, Les Fontaine, Holz, Toby, Schultz, Giles, Glaser, and Subel of the talented toe enough game quarters for varsity emblems.

Topping all city gridiron festivals was the banquet sponsored by the old grads of South Division. Speakers were Reverend Hjortland, Mr. Coblentz, and genial Sam McKillop. Individual trophies were presented to Coaches Krueger, Rasinske, and Schmidt. Victory reaped its own reward!

THE championship germ must have infected the Yannigan ranks, for they too emerged undefeated and untied in five encounters.

Under Coaches Nold and Liljeblad, gruelling sessions on the charging sled and tackling dummy soon whipped the 38 varsity aspirants into condition for their conflicts with North, King, Pulaski, West, and East.

Boasting a heavy 165-pound line, the South B's outfought a scrappy North aggregation 12-0. Touchdowns were rammed over in the second and third periods. With heads-up football as their calling card, the Yannigans overpowered King 20-6, scoring in every quarter but the last. The only eleven to tally against the Redbirds, King made good a fumble behind the line of scrimmage.

Following up these victories, the B's crushed Pulaski and West, 6-0 and 7-0 respectively. With the spoils of four victories hanging on the trophy pole, the Redmen completed their city-wide conquest by steamrolling East 19-0 in the final game. Glowacki, fast-thinking quarterback, chalked up six on a reverse from the six-yard line after East had fumbled on the kick-off. Brandt's extra-point boot went clean and true. Duer's interception and runback of an enemy pass provided the score in the second quarter, while in the third quarter Rullmann added points with his six-yard end run. 64 points to their opponents' 6 in five battles!

Given B-team awards were Pokrop, B-center; Kleinowski and Duer, ends; Todryk and Kulbacki, tackles; Majewski and Pinter, guards; Glowacki, quarterback; Brandt, fullback; Serowski, Karaganies, Lenchek, and Rullmann, wingbacks. Rewards also went to Mamayek, Zamiatowski, Zbierowski, Radtke, Winters, Sweet, and Skladanek. The experience these gridders gained will aid them greatly as varsity candidates.

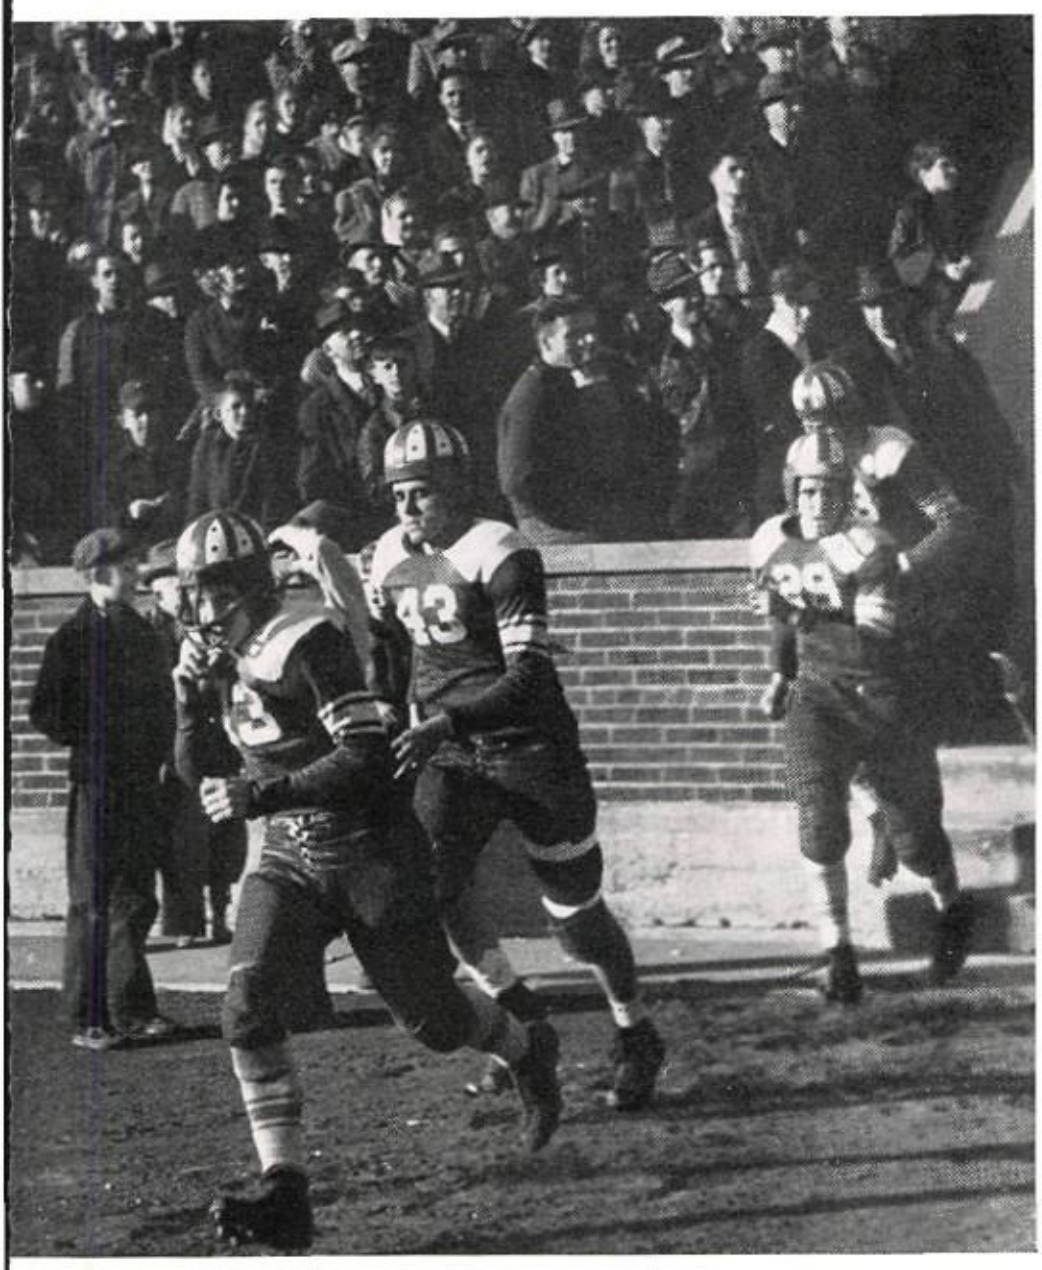
VICTORY SILHOUETTE

BRAINS behind the brawn! Head mentor Arthur Krueger and his assistants, Ray Schmidt and Walter Rasinske, molded the raw material of the 1940 football squad into the scrappiest gridders South has had in two decades.

Youngest coach in the conference, Art Krueger was the power behind the throne. High praise is due his splendid organization and planning. During the championship conflict, he sprouted many gray hairs, evidence of his keen interest in the squad. Truly, it was a golden year for South.

COACHES NOWAK, COFFEEN, LILJEBLAD

BACK TO WORK



The weighties' battling for first team berths were welded into a solid line by Coach Rasinske. Mentor Schmidt organized the Cardinal's Four Horsemen into a magnificent mechanized unit. Much credit for the winning combination of Strzykalski-to-Polczynski must go to him.

BASKETBALL 1940-41

A SWISH, a hollow thud, excited yells emerging from the gym, and the 1940-41 basketball season was on. Under Coach Carl Bechtold practice started early with a fine turnout of 70 boys, who worked hard reviewing fundamentals. After weeks of intensive drill, a well-balanced team was ready for the cage wars.

South lost the conference opener to Boys' Tech, 38-18. The Cardinals never headed the smooth Tech machine, which later emerged as city champs. The only signs of life on the part of the Redmen appeared in the fourth quarter, but the Boilermakers quickly terminated this rally.

The following week, in complete reversal, the Redbirds all but ran Juneau out of the South gym, beating the Pioneers, 58-27. After a tight first quarter, South quickened the tempo by better rebound work, more accurate shooting, and the interception of enemy passes. Leaders in the massacre were Chief Strzykalski with 25 points and his fellow-brave Kucharski with 19. Playing for the first time in the new Pulaski gym, South easily defeated the Ramblers, 39-22. In the first half the Card hoopsters were somewhat bewildered by the spacious court, but the second stanza was a different story. Led by Strzykalski, Kallies, Kucharski, and Polczynski, a third-quarter spurt of 17 points put the game on ice.

Returning home, South humbled mighty Washington, defending city champs, 45-25, in a surprise rout. A one-man show, Strzykalski led the scoring for the evening with 25 points. Late in the second quarter the Red quintet had the situation in hand. A third-quarter rally permanently pinned Washington's ears back. In the game with Custer South got its biggest scare of the season. The Custer cagemen doggedly stayed at South's heels for three quarters but were finally shaken off by a 15-point barrage in the fourth quarter. The final score was 29-20 in favor of South.

The West game was a feature attraction of the season. South's victory, truly a team victory, was the best game played. The lead changed hands many times in the early quarter, West pulling ahead at the half 12-10. In the second half South bottled up Wilbur, giant West center, took control of the rebound situation, and boosted its lead to 20-15. Maintaining this slight advantage, South won 30-24. With a blitzkrieg of baskets, South overwhelmed North 51-17. The Redbirds never gave North a chance and scored at will throughout the game. Outstanding for South were Kucharski with 26 points and Strzykalski with 18.

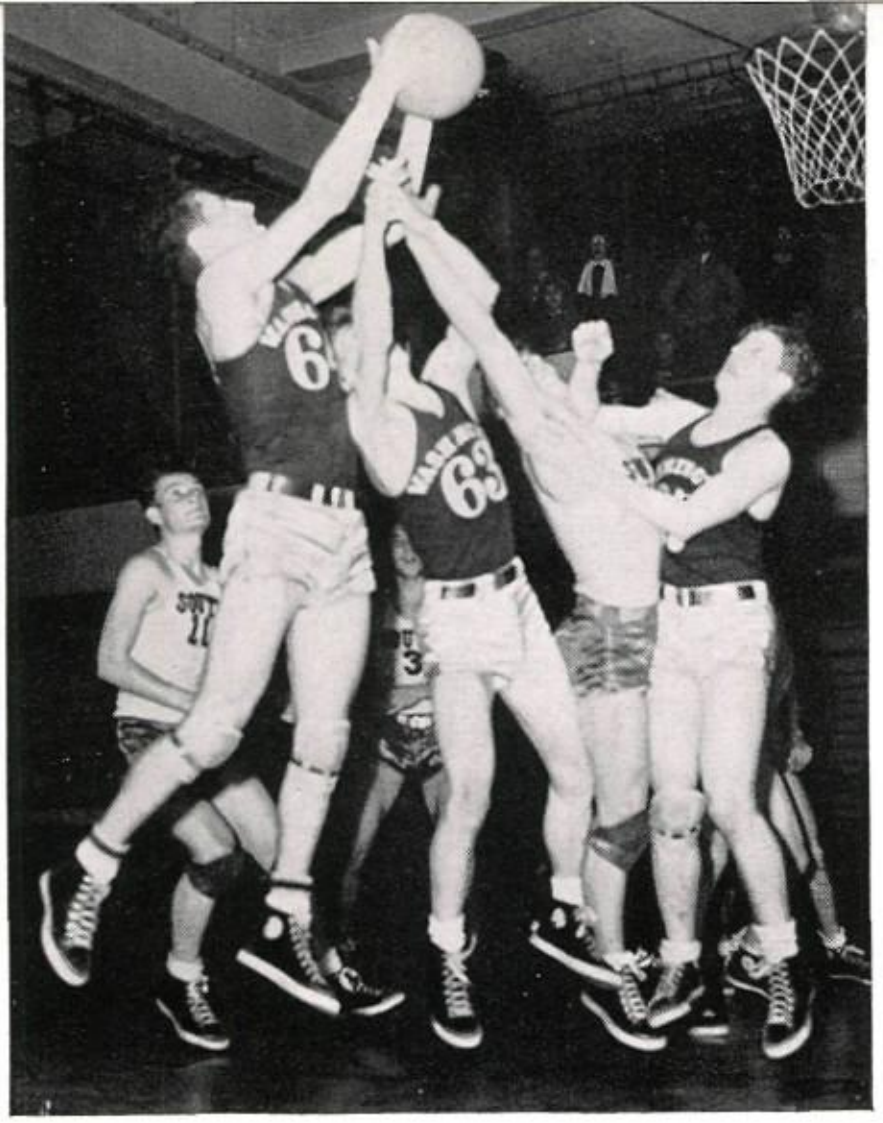
Haunted by the old Lincoln jinx, the Red cagers bowed before an aggressive Blue and Gray quintet, 30-27. It was a typical Lincoln-South spine tingler, hard fought and not decided until the final gun. Later this game was forfeited to South. Superior shooting by Rufus King combined with the loss of four South regulars via the personal foul route brought about the Cardinal's defeat, 35-24.

Unable to break the losing spell, South gave the next game to Bay View, 45-34. After a desperate attempt the Redbirds slowed under the Bays' scoring spree and stayed behind. Despite another record by Strzykalski, South lost the last game to East, 34-24. Redbirds and Tigers played on even terms during the first half. In the second half, however, the Orange and Black scored enough points to stave off any South threat.

At the close of the season emblems were awarded to Kallies, Ladich, Redovick, Rozanski, Polczynski, Strzykalski, and Kucharski. Numeral winners were Latus, Paruzynski, and Zamjahn.

This season will be remembered for many outstanding scoring records. Strzykalski broke the individual scoring record with the staggering total of 140 points for 11 games. Kucharski scored 26 points in the North game, one point short of the record for a single game. In the Juneau game South's cagers pounded the backboards for 58 points, the highest total scored by a conference team in league play this year.



EVERYBODY UP

SINCE 1932 when basketball was introduced into the city conference athletic program, Carl Bechtold has coached the game at South. Through the years Becky's teams have consistently counted in league play. He has given his players the will to win and a love of the game.

Assistant Coach Walter Rasinske was a college athlete of note. His intimate knowledge of various basketball systems has been a great aid to South since his arrival in 1938. Of merry disposition, yet firm, he is well-liked and respected by the squad.

RAY KALLIES

WHEN in the groove, the Cardinal quintet of 1940-41 ran roughshod over opponents, turning out points in mass production.

The main cog was Strzykalski, terrific since his first game as a sophomore. A driving player with abundant speed, Johnny broke the individual city scoring record with his clever and deceptive shooting. Many times he sparked the team to victory. The other forward post was held by the surprising Kucharski, who caged over 100 points for his season's total. A good ball handler, Gene was adept at hook shots and rebound tip-ins under the basket.

Giant of the squad was Kallies, usually at his best on the home floor. His looping push shots figured in many triumphs. Because of his height, he was most valuable under the basket.

Heading the guards was the team's defensive ace, Polczynski. Covering his opponents like a tent, he permitted few enemy forwards to break through him. Another formidable back-court artist was Ladich, noted for his ball hawking, whose tactics helped the Redbirds control the ball. On defense he repeatedly broke up the opposition's passes.

Ably substituting at forward was Paruzynski. Tad broke into the lineup frequently, revealing some classy dribbling plus a great fighting spirit. A hold-over letterman, Rozanski often substituted at guard. Specs excelled at setting up plays and driving down the center for push shots. All-round handy man, Redovick replaced both guard and center. The strong points of his game were defensive work and good floor play. The two returning numeral winners, Zamiahn and Latus, revealed enough class to give promise of fine performance in the future.

Singled out for honors in a basketball players' poll conducted by a local newspaper were Strzykalski, who placed on the first team, and Kallies, Rozanski, and Kucharski, who received honorable mention.

HOW they strutted their stuff, this band of ours that perpetuates the old Shoulder to Shoulder spirit of South Side!

Highlighting the band's achievements of the year were the South American suites, overtures, rhapsodies, lofty hymns, captivating waltzes, and marches so in keeping with the patriotic spirit of the time.

With a wave of his baton, Mr. Louis Goodrich blended soothing clarinets, thumping bass drums, blaring trumpets, breathy flutes, and deep-toned tubas into a splendid rendition of King Orry or The Chocolate Soldier.

Radio broadcasts, the State Parent-Teachers association convention, and Americanization rallies were only a few of the activities of our loyal band this year. All these were additional to the regular duties of spurring the team on to victory, raising funds for much-needed uniforms, and supplying the musical needs of school programs. Only band members knew the endless hours of rehearsal and ceaseless toil required to produce their uniformly excellent performances.

Representing South Division in a nation-wide broadcast, sponsored by the Music Educators' National conference, over the NBC hookup on Easter Sunday, were the ten outstanding band members, chosen for skill, efficiency, and ability. This ensemble included Phyllis Morley, tenor saxophone; Martha Rankin, bassoon; Joe Kocjan and Clement Fontaine, clarinets; Kenneth Tess, flute; Jack Steffen and Walter Juszczak, basses; Howell Anderson, trumpet; Barbara Halonen, French horn; and Ernest Lorentz, trombone.

In recognition of their contributions in the field of music during the past year, Walter Juszczak, Joseph Kocjan, and Clifton Scheffler were named as band honor students.

MA, mi, mu; ning, nang, nay. Funny noises from the music room! It's only the a cappella tuning up for its first number. Three times a week the members of the chorus rehearse diligently that they may give a good account of themselves in such an unforgettable experience as an appearance with the Lyric Male chorus.

Proudest and happiest moment in the life of a chorus member is the day when he is given a blue robe with a cardinal stole. Toward this end each singer aspires, for it means final initiation into the a cappella choir.

The boys and girls in the glee clubs spend their time in studying new music and preparing for their joint meetings. The gala event is the annual music concert for which the girls don evening gowns and the boys, formal black and white attire.

Each year the names of those who have progressed the most are engraved on the music honor roll. Chorus honors this year go to Carolyn Kaminski, Arthur Koch, Lucy Martino, Grace Scheftner, and Donald Schwejda.

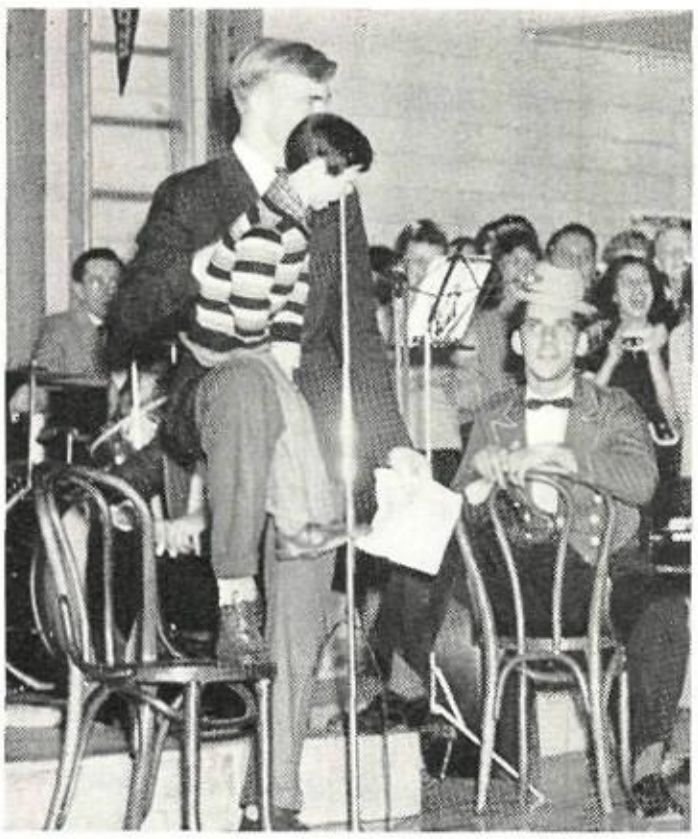
"LESS brass on that measure! Ready now? Start at the moderato again." That is how Miss Esther Lehmann directed the orchestra in rehearsal during the eighth hour. And rehearsals were necessary, for the orchestra performed frequently in public.

Greatest thrill of the yearly program was the annual concert when the audience was enraptured by the exquisite strains of the Adagio Pathetique and by Bizet's triumphant Toreador march. Participating in a nation-wide broadcast on Easter Sunday were Anne-Marie Borge, Mary Rankin, and Lisabetta Krahn. Another activity of the orchestra was the concert at the annual meeting of the South Side Civic association at the Forest Home Avenue school.

Chosen for scholastic and musical ability, Anne-Marie Borge, Lisabetta Krahn, and Jean Ramthun represented the orchestra honor students.

Very best wishes to our (oral) Daniel Webster — oh well, Lisabetta — "Mary Parker" Krahn



FAREWELL, ZEKE

FIRST of the year's patriotic entertainments were the programs commemorating the birth of Columbus and the signing of the Armistice. "I am thankful to be an American today," were the words of the student speaker at the Thanksgiving day celebration. "Liberty isn't safe for anyone until it is safe for everyone!" challenged the Rev. Howard Orians in an address honoring Lincoln and Washington.

Matinee dances gave students an opportunity to get acquainted with their fellows. Here they'd swing and sway to Sammy Kaye and all the dance idols via recording.

Mr. L. P. Goodrich, new assistant superintendent of schools, sounded a timely note when he addressed the school on Honor day. Serving our fellow men was the theme of his message. In his commencement address Dr. W. W. Theisen, also an assistant superintendent, urged the January class to be leaders, to contribute to the thinking of others, and to help develop the nation's resources.

Miss DeCourcy and Miss McConochie, Mr. Sears and his loyal crew, and Mr. Thompson combined to fashion these successful entertainments.

The Needed Kind of FUNERAL SERVICE

TO CONTRIBUTE most considerately every preparation for the care of the one departed, and every comforting thought for those bereaved, constitutes the aim and attitude and attention of Borgwardt Sons' funeral service.

Added to that is a policy of co-operation in the important matter of costs — assisting toward price selection within the family's ability to pay.

And such service is indeed the need at the time.

BOOKS have Personality too

There is a charming quality about a skillfully executed book that stands out as conspicuously as striking personality in a man or woman. Hard to define, yet quickly sensed.

In books this quality is a matter of superb craftsmanship, of painstaking attention and care, of much perspiration as well as inspiration.

We are proud of our reputation as printers of fine books . . . of which this Annual is a typical example.

"O wad some power the giftie gie us
To see oursels as ithers see us!"

SENIORS'	CAVALCADE
Abramski, Cyrilla	Popular with the boys, but her heart belongs to the Navy. Ken you wonder?
Ackermann, Ruthe	To be a cog in the wheel of business is the ambition of this comely lass.
Adamczyk, Isabelle	Note to all business men: She'll help you get rid of your worries.
Amschler, Ruthe	Well versed in the culinary art! Don't rush, boys; she's a career girl.
Anderson, Howell	Plays a trumpet, but this Gabriel would like to become an army aviator.
Anderson, Jean	Jean's kingdom for a horse—a saddle—a bucking or—a hobby horse!
Andryszewicz, Theo.	A traveling author like Richard Halliburton, he'll be looking for adventure.
Bade, Helen	Future journalist collects dogs! Who is on the other end of the leash?
Badura, John	Girls who continually talk of clothes find themselves among Jack's foes.
Bain, Kenneth	His stamp collecting will help him fulfill a life-long ambition—to see the world.
Baldewicz, Florence	Florence is interested in notes—musical, not the kind people pass in A.
Baldzikowski, Lucille	Clothes may make the woman, but Lucille intends to make the clothes.
Barczak, Gail	An archer who likes to make her beau's heart quiver
Barlow, Lorraine	A cheerful disposition plus a charming voice equal a future governess.
Barr, Richard	A forceful individual from whom a wealth of wisdom and good cheer flows
Barrington, Mae	Serious-minded individuals hold no charm for a genial joker like Mae.
Barwick, Beatrice	Creating a gown that's chic and smart will gladden Beatrice's blithe heart.
Baszynski, Janet	A stitch in time is no crime if done at home and not at the office.
Behling, Arthur	Art's peeve is the phrase, "What's the difference". What is the difference?
Bendyk, Cecile	There'll be some changes made when this beautician begins her work.
Benning, Mabel	Shorty—sporty; stenographer—photographer; skater—dater
Bereziski, Mathilda	Mattie interests herself in home economics; she seams capable of it.
Berezowitz, Irene	Her ultimate end is to make a friend. How's that for a hobby?
Bernstein, Audrey	A gracious, gay, generous girl—genuine throughout
Bevel, Jean	Life whizzes by when she's on roller skates.
Bielawski, Robert	Bielawski may not sound Scotch, but Bob hates to lose money.

Block, Dorothy	Likes to sit and knit . . has a liking for hiking . . sews shorts for sports
Borge, Anne-Marie	Four years in orchestra . . music tournament winner . . fiddling her way to fame
Brand, Bonnie	Autographs or drumsticks, Bonnie collects them regardless of Brand.
Brantzeg, Ruth	Now Ruth draws pictures; later she'll draw a stenographer's salary—we hope.
Bruno, Cornelia	With easel and paints she'll draw herself a colorful life.
Brussock, Betty	Swimming plus bowling plus singing minus gossips equal Betty.
Buchholz, Betty Jane	With a pleasant smile Betty charms people into giving her their autograph.
Budzish, Albert	He says what he thinks, does what he says, and loves discipline sometimes.
Burbulak, Virginia	A friend that is true is worth more than two. Hi, Virginia!
Bury, Lucille	Naus the time for Lucille to Bury her mind in stenography.
Calabrese, Lorraine	Rustling grass skirts and whispering palms are beckoning Breezy to Hawaii.
Carlson, Jane	High above the clouds we fly, my love (my plane) and I!
Cichocki, Sylvia	Sylvia prefers waltzes to the sailor's hornpipe, but Navy men—well!
Cielinski, Emily	Gardening is Emily's hobby. She should specialize in bachelor buttons.
Cieslinski, Evelyn	Her goal is California. Is there a possibility that Hollywood lures her?
Cook, Robert	Will no one lend an open ear to a non-conforming engineer?
Coonan, Gerald	A burly sailor lad is he, who spins a yarn mechanically.
Cummings, Mildred	Here's to a bright star in a constellation of cooks!
Czerniejewski, Gert.	Swing-copated songster longs for the open road and a camp under the stars.

ERWIN A. ANDERSON, President

Czerwinski, Frank	One of South's live wires whose current desire is to become an electrician
Dahl, Lois	Lois, who likes to swing and sway, will try to sway a jury in the future.
Dahl, Marnetta	She is a designing woman, but her designs are confined to novel hair styles.
Dambruch, Robert	His future is "vague as a mirage sketched with invisible ink on cellophane."
Dargo, Ray	A good sport and a concert fan! He's short but every inch a man.
Debczynski, Jean	Jean contemplates being a professional buyer. Get paid to spend money, eh?
Dembinski, Florence	Boys, take heed! This artistic senior has designs—on dresses.
Dennison, Robert	In track it was the cinder path—at home, crossword puzzles. What a Life!
Dittmore, Ray	Why don't you speak for yourself, Ray?
Dobiesz, Genevieve	Spontaneity, versatility, and charm are the headlines for this star reporter.
Dolge, Jack	Six feet of manhood filled with diabolical nonsense and lots of food
Dombrowski, Evelyn	Where's Evelyn? She's gone to California.
Drentkiewicz, Roman	Faust, Carmen, Aida are sharply noted in his scale of musical ambition.
Drews, Anthony	Anthony likes a dark room—his hobby is developing photographs.
Drezdon, Joseph	He studies accounting and radio. We hope his success isn't a short wave.
Drozewski, Esther	"Her eyes as stars of twilight fair; like twilight's, too, her dusky hair."
Duerr, Elizabeth	Rings and horses interest Liz, who wants to be a gym teacher.
Dutkiewicz, Alice	The eyes have it. In this case they happen to be big, brown ones.
Dykas, Raymond	This lad plans to concentrate on figures—in the ledger.
Dziurdziewski, Richard	Dick's hobby is archery—the bull's-eye on his target of life is aviation.
Eagen, Raymond	His hobbies are girls and archery. Is Cupid somewhere in the background?
Eckstaedt, Ethel	Ethel cuts a pretty figure. Skating? No, diving.
Eigner, Shirley	A magnetic force draws Shirley to nursing—good-looking male patients.
Emery, Alice	Amiable Alice agrees she talks too much. Gentlemen, beware!
Engel, Lorraine	A tip-top girl, she has dictation in her head and dancing in her toes.
Engeldinger, Glenn	His hobbies are taking his girl out and stamp collecting. Post office?
Erendt, Gilbert	Gilbert is a very candid fellow. In fact, his hobby is photography.
Etier, La Verne	Chemically-minded Verne collects love stories. Hope the lovers don't blow up.
Fabian, Amelia	Considerate and conscientious . . amiable but aggressive . . simple and sweet
Faust, Juanita	And books, she knows, "are a substantial world, both pure and good".
Feldmann, Germaine	Giggling Gertie of South Division—to be a typist is her decision.
Fenner, Myrtle	Syncopation, psychology, and sewing soothe this singing senior.
Filut, Loretta	This candid miss considers a dress-designing career a snap.
Flak, Stella	There are three S's in Stella's life—swimming, skating, and stenography.
Flint, Herbert	Herb wants to go buy-buy. A traveling buyer, you know!
Fons, Dolores	Collecting bugs is her hobby; yet she doesn't get the jitters.
Fontaine, Clem	He'd like to run interference for a big-name band.
Fontaine, Leslie	All-round boy . . enjoys life . . alive as the electric wires he'll work with
Forte, Bette	As buyer for a department store, she'll let nothing slip.
Frank, William	As president of senior band, William tooted his own horn.
Franz, Melvin	In making baskets or in diving Mel's as swift as the bullets he collects.
Frelka, Norbert	Norb's goal will be attained when Uncle Sam accepts him as a flying cadet.
Fritsch, Janet	Amiable, amusing, agreeable . . 'gainst giggling girls . . wants to be a warbler
Gember, Edward	Two A's he loves, athletics and aviation; one he doesn't, anger.
Gierzycki, Albin	By plane or trapeze he will fly through the air with the greatest of ease.
Giesman, Betty	May she ever be keyed up by a typewriter.
Gilbert, Patricia	Pretty Patty . . pleasing personality . . punching numbers, her profession
Giles, Daniel	Girls who slouch—taboo; girls who cook—woo! woo!
Glass, Betty	A soothing voice . . an efficient nurse . . feeling ill now?
Gogan, Robert	Lots of nice, red hair plus two unruly feet! In between you'll find Bob.
Gollon, Warren	Warning to all girls! Better learn to dance, or Warren won't like you.
Gordon, John	In John's vision of manhood there is no such word as fail.
Gozycki, Irene	Irene and Wimpy differ in one way—she pays for her hamburgers.

Jensen, Ray	Versatility, ingenuity, activity . . man-about-school . . deep as well as tall
John, Fred	"Give to every man thy ear but few thy voice" is his advice to windbags.
Johnson, Helen	Sparkling personality and gracious dignity make Johnny our valued comrade.
Jonas, Leonard	He collects stamps, but phi-lately the wrestling squad has taken his time.
Jubeck, John	John's hobby and favorite amusement is models—mannequins or airplanes?
Juszczak, Phyllis	Phyllis is always in someone's hair. She's studying beauty culture.
Juszczak, Walter	Time flies, but Walter beats it. He plays in the band and orchestra.
Kallies, Ray	Dribbler in basketball . . scribbler in accounting . . nibbler on pork chops
Kaminski, Carolyn	Sweet as her voice and personality; fair as her hair and outlook on life
Karshna, Edward	Ed's interest lies in figures—the kind used in accounting.
Kellaway, Virginia	Virginia wants to be an old maid. Why then is she taking beauty culture?
Kelly, Darlene	Charming Miss Kelly will be the answer to her patients' slow recovery.
Kemp, Dorothy	All-round girl . . sparkling, sporty, studious . . certain to land a stag
Kettenbeil, June	She collects gossip. My, my, what a sense of rumor!
Kielc, Bernadine	A pecan-munching, key-punching trombonist! O man!
Kietzman, Ruth	She'll relieve the boss of his worries by her cooperation.
Kinowski, Genevieve	She collects china dogs and pitchers—human or ornamental?
Klamecki, Virginia	Another nurse who will put her science course training to practical use
Klemencic, Stanley	He draws the line at chattering women, but sketching colors his life.
Kloehn, Leola	Land of the Sphinx and mummies, I adore thee!
Klofta, Dorothy	In white cap and uniform she'll be the doctor's first aid.
Klosiewski, Evelyn	If she can't have a Stradivarius, she'll settle for a typewriter.
Klosiewski, Robert	Bob wants to Bob up in big league baseball. Smart Feller!
Klug, Donald	He studies hard and never looks for dates—except in bookkeeping books.

Dear Eleanor:

Ah, those days at South, I'll never forget the million thrills we've had together. Remember the radio broadcast over WISN with Mr. Morsted and the gang, I'll never forget the beaming encouragement you gave me with your engaging smile as I started to speak.

Remembering you,
Mary Dimoth

Dear Eleanor:

Sorry for the mistake I made in writing in your annual before. But this time I wish to tell you the following:

Eleanor, your really a great asset to South. What you've done no one else can ever come close. To a great student in everything and a faithful friend to everybody, may I extend my sincere wishes for success and happiness in anything you undertake.

Loads of fun
Frankie Rice
